Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 26 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells for most, with isolated heavy showers possible inland.

Today:
A warm and humid day of sunny spells and light winds. Isolated showers will also develop inland later, some perhaps on the heavy side with a risk of hail and thunder, although it will stay fine for most. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining showers fading for a time to leave a mild night with clear spells and some fog patches developing inland. A few further showers perhaps possible towards dawn. Minimum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tuesday:
Brightest for many during the morning, as cloud and spells of rain punctuated by heavier, perhaps thundery showers spread eastwards later. Generally less warm. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
More changeable and breezy through this period, with a mixture of sunshine and showers, some heavy and thundery. Temperatures lower than recently.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.